Custom grown orders must be taken on the date you specify, regardless of status

These plants are being custom grown for your order, so changes or cancellations to custom bedding plant and perennial orders more than one week past the deadlines outlined above may result in a change fee and/or restocking fee. Orders placed after these dates are not guaranteed to be custom grown, but may be considered at an additional charge or will be filled the best we can with availability items. Certain perennials may not be available to custom order based on bulking and vernalization requirements. We will suggest subs and do our best to fill your order from availability!
